Foes Brand Court Scheme Dictatorial and Autocratic

Harvard Professor Warns of Dangers to Freedom After Sen Glass Denounces Proposal

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON March 30 — Prof Erwin N Griswold of Harvard law school followed Sen Carter Glass [illegible] year-old Virginia Democrat in lashing at the Roosevelt court bill today as dictatorial and autocratic.

Griswold recommended to the senate judiciary committee as did Glass in a caustic radio address last night that a constitutional amendment was the proper method to obtain desired judicial changes.

Break down the barriers which have protected the independence of the supreme court Griswold said and the way will be broad and open for the first man who would be dictator or whatever his name may [illegible] to be.

Sees Democracy Threatened

Glass denouncing the measure as abominable and utterly destitute of moral sensibility declared

No threat to representative democracy since the foundation of the republic has exceeded in its evil potentials this attempt to pack the supreme court and thus destroy the purity and independence of this [illegible] last resort.

Talk of [illegible] loyal [illegible] involved in the court issue he declared [illegible] poppycock.

We know he said that there has been no mandate from the people to rape the supreme court or to tamper with the Constitution.

Prof Griswold in a statement prepared for the senate hearings recommended a proposed amendment to fix the size of the supreme court permanently at nine justices and [illegible] terms [illegible] years.

Such an amendment he said would meet the objectives of the President and not be subject to constitutional or political objections.

Hits at Vote Canceling

There are at least two ways of getting rid of judges he said. One is to take them out and shoot them.

The other way [illegible] more genteel but no less effective. The [illegible] kept on the public payroll but their votes are cancelled.

Both sides in the judiciary reorganization dispute endeavored to capitalize on the supreme court's elimination of what President Roosevelt once called the no man's land [illegible] minimum wage legislation for women.

Sen Minton Democrat of Indiana an advocate of the Roosevelt bill contended the [illegible] decision [illegible] upholding the Washington state wage law and reversing [illegible] its former position showed it is a human [illegible] and proves what the President has been asking.

Burke Differs

Sen Burke Democrat of Nebraska drew a different conclusion from the decision [illegible] that [illegible] approval of the [illegible] Frazier-Lemke farm mortgage [illegible] and the railroad labor [illegible]

New Wage Laws for Women To Spring Up Soon

Advocates of Such Legislation Prepare To Act After Court Approves Statute

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON March 30—Advocates of laws setting minimum wages for women declared today their intention to seek new acts in many states to conform with the Washington state statute upheld by the supreme court.

REACH DECISION TO APPEAL CITY PENSION FIGHT

Representatives of Firemen's Groups Will Go to U S Supreme Court If Necessary

AWAIT THOMPSON CASE

Hearing in Suit of Former Police Chief Set for Wednesday

De[illegible] [illegible] case of [illegible] [illegible] Wilber D Cline [illegible] the United States supreme court if necessary was reached yesterday in Columbus at a conference of Marion firemen, their [illegible] of the [illegible] and state fire[illegible]

Meanwhile there were [illegible] important developments in the pension picture. Marion [illegible] has become a testing ground for the question of the right of city council to abolish pensions for firemen and policemen.

One development was assignment of the police pension suit of James W Thompson former police chief for hearing in common pleas court Wednesday after plans to conduct the hearing were set aside today.

The other was the filing of an amended answer by the city in the suit Thompson brought in which the city set up new defenses.

Yesterday's conference in Columbus on the fire pension question was an aftermath of a recent decision by Judge Hector S Young in common pleas court upholding council's right to abolish the firemen's pension fund. This ruling was given in the suit filed by Cline a retired fire captain.

Next Step in Program

Grant E Mouser Jr counsel for Cline said the next step in the fight to preserve the pension system will be to take the case to the Third district court of appeals at Lima. The action is being held up pending a decision in a similar action started by former Police Chief Thompson on behalf of the police pension system.

Although notice of appeal must be filed within a brief time after the decision is rendered Mr Mouser said an agreement has been made with the court and City Solicitor Ralph E Carhart to hold up the official court entry in the Cline case until the case is ready to be appealed.

When asked if the case would be carried beyond the court of appeals Mr Mouser said We will take it as high as necessary.

W P Lattimer legislative representative of the international and state associations of fire fighters told The Associated Press today the associations will back the Marion firemen to the federal supreme court.

Present at yesterday's conference were Mr Mouser Mr Lattimer Andrew J High [illegible] legal advisor of the Ohio State Police and Firemen's association Joseph A Kirby of Dayton secretary treasurer of the state group and Fire Chief T J McFarland and a delegation of seven Marion firemen.

Thompson Suit Delayed

Plans to hold a common pleas court hearing of the Thompson police pension suit today were interrupted by the belated January term grand jury session which required the services of Robert Hedges official court reporter. Since his services were wanted in the Thompson case to make a record of testimony and proceedings in the event the case should be carried to higher courts Judge Young and attorneys agreed to carry the hearing over to Wednesday.

In preparation for the hearing the city filed an amended answer in the Thompson case yesterday adding to some extent the recent decision of Judge Young in the Cline case. Thompson's suit is a test of legality of council's vote on Feb 23 1936 to abolish the police pension system while Cline's case is a parallel suit on the firemen's pension system abolished on the same date.

Thompson held a temporary injunction and it is asking it be made permanent restraining County Auditor Harry V Morris from [illegible] $7 [illegible] levied last year for police pensions [illegible] A similar temporary injunction granted [illegible] Cline was dis[illegible]

USE OF TAG FEE FOR AID BARRED

House Group Votes 12 to 0 Against Shifting Auto Funds to Relief Purposes

BILL INVOLVED $12 000 000

Would Have Stripped Counties of Road Revenue Tax Drive Opposed

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O March 30—The house motor vehicles committee killed a bill by Rep Chris H Armbruster Democrat of Henry today to authorize counties to use their share of motor vehicle license fees for relief by voting indefinite postponement 12 to 0.

The bill would have made $12 000 000 available for relief but would have virtually stripped the counties of road revenues if all the motor vehicle revenues were used for relief.

County Auditor John A Zangerle and Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Morris Friedman of Cuyahoga county strongly opposed a bill by Rep P J Ward Republican of Geauga to further collection of delinquent taxes before the house taxation committee.

Would Give Board New Power

The bill would authorize the state tax commission to take over the county auditors and treasurers offices for delinquent collections on petition of the taxpayers. The attorneys [illegible] similarly [illegible] over the prosecutor's office.

Burglar Loots Wiant Residence As Youth Sleeps

Prowler Enters by Second Story Window, Uses Candle To Light Way

Marion police today were conducting an investigation of the burglary early last night of the home of Ben I Wiant at 415 [illegible] which netted the intruder [illegible] valued at $40. The time of the burglary was fixed between 7 and 10:30 o'clock while Ben Wiant Jr was asleep in the house and other members of the family were attending a [illegible]

Entrance to the home was apparently gained by climbing up a [illegible] to a rear porch and entering an unlocked door leading to the second floor of the home. The intruder left a trail of burnt matches throughout the house and officers found numerous drops of paraffin which led them to believe that candles had been used.

The loot which included $17 two wrist watches a [illegible] key chain [illegible] a pair of [illegible] and a bill fold containing a drivers license was taken from various parts of the home. Ben Wiant Jr who had returned from [illegible] of the [illegible] club at Marshfield yesterday retired about 7 o'clock.

Other members of the family left the house at that time to attend a show and discovered the burglary upon their return at 10:30 o'clock. The door to the room in which the youth was sleeping had apparently been opened but nothing in the room was disturbed. A check up about the home this morning revealed that the intruder had dropped [illegible] after leaving the house.

Son of Pioneer Publisher Here Meets Aid To Father

A Columbus man whose father published the first edition of Marion's first daily newspaper 60 years ago made the acquaintance today of a Marion resident who helped his father print the daily paper.

An article in last Wednesday's issue of The Star marking the sixtieth anniversary of the publication of the first issue of The Pebble the city's first daily newspaper brought the meeting here.

The publisher's son is Otis E Smith a motorman on the Columbus street car line for the last 20 years. The Marion man he met is Samuel F Smith [illegible] 26 [illegible] [illegible] The Star office [illegible] [illegible] of The Pebble.

The Columbus man came here today to [illegible] his cousin Mrs Ethel Evans of 1148 East Center street. While [illegible] he saw the article about the first issue of The Pebble and read how Samuel F Smith had helped in the publication. He and Mrs Evans immediately [illegible] The Star office [illegible] [illegible] with the veteran printer.

In the meeting today it was brought out that the publisher of Marion's first daily had come here from [illegible] county where his father had served as probate judge and that after leaving here the family moved to New Jersey where he published one.

In addition to the son also located here today two daughters survive. They are Misses Mary and [illegible] Smith of Philadelphia.

FRANCO KILLS ITALIANS' FOES

Wholesale Executions Aimed To Suppress Plots Against Rebels Allies

DEFEAT BRINGS NEW TALK

Feeling Intensified by Repulse of Duce's Men in Recent Guadalajara Offensive

By The Associated Press

BAYONNE French Spanish Frontier March 30 Widespread executions were reported here today to have been ordered throughout Insurgent held Spain to suppress bitter dissatisfaction with Italian influence.

Several scores of persons have been shot as the result of abortive plots so strong has been the feeling against foreign influence in Gen Francisco Franco's armies the reports reaching here despite a strict censorship said.

The information much of which came from Basque quarters (supporters of the Madrid-Valencia government) stated the importation of Italian soldiers never had been popular in the Spanish army but had been accepted as necessary to crush the Madrid government.

Intensified by Defeat

With the defeat of the insurgent armies reported to have been mainly Italian divisions on the Guadalajara front northeast of Madrid this feeling was said to have been intensified and resulted in some extreme cases in definite plots.

These however were not thought to have been directed at Gen Franco specifically but against further Italian participation.

Two colonels in the insurgent army at Burgos were declared to have committed suicide in protest because they were heartsick with the foreign invasion.

Insurgent quarters in France energetically denied the reports declaring we are in close contact with all nationalist Spain and we have no such information. These reports are fantastic.

Whatever may be the truth or falseness of the reported executions and plots reliable information indicates definite dissatisfaction and uneasiness among many insurgent Spaniards at the part Italians are playing in the war.

No attempt was made to conceal a certain amount of private satisfaction that Italians had been defeated at Guadalajara as Spaniards had been carefully excluded from that drive on Madrid.

The Italians who have been accused the reports reaching here said of treating their Spanish comrades in arms with contempt.

Comparatively little feeling was said to exist against the Germans who do not approach the Italians in numbers.

No accurate account of the plots were available because of the strict censorship but Basque quarters reported executions at Valladolid Seville and Algeciras. Dispatches from Tangier yesterday said 30 officers and soldiers were executed at the aviation camp at Tetuan Spanish Morocco March 24 as the result of a plot against the insurgent government.

FRIENDLY MOOD MARKS PARLEY

Chrysler and Union Leaders in Seventh Day of Negotiations Refereed by Murphy

LEWIS STILL IN NEW YORK

Accord May Be Delayed Pending His Arrival Expected Thursday

By The Associated Press

LANSING Mich March 30 Conferees seeking settlement of the Chrysler strike assembled in amicable mood today for their seventh day of negotiations as informed sources reported an agreement was in sight.

Walter P Chrysler chairman of the board of the Chrysler Corp smiled broadly as he entered the executive chambers of Gov Frank Murphy.

Heading the union delegation were Lee Pressman general counsel of the Committee for Industrial Organization and Homer Martin president of the United Automobile Workers of America the union striking to enforce its collective bargaining demands.

May Delay Accord

One report was that an agreement might be delayed and that the conference might even recess until John L Lewis C I O chairman returned here from New York probably Thursday.

Little remained some observers close to the proceedings asserted in the composition of differences in the costly dispute which for more than three weeks has kept the 60,000 Chrysler Corp employes and thousands of wage earners in related fields.

Sources close to Gov Frank Murphy made these points in arguing that an agreement was imminent:

Conferences have continued without interruption.

Sitdown strikers have been evacuated.

At no time has there been an intimation that the conference would blow up.

The principals understand each other and know about how far each will retreat.

The time is psychologically ripe for a meeting of the minds.

Not Probable Soon

An authoritative source demanding anonymity said last night an agreement was possible but not probable within 24 hours. This source said an agreement probably would be deferred until the return of John L Lewis chairman of the Committee for Industrial Organization.

Lewis went to New York Sunday to participate in a soft coal contract parley. He is expected back in Michigan by Thursday.

Continuation of the conference despite his departure occasioned some surprise since previously Gov Murphy had said the talks would be discontinued several days to accommodate both Lewis and Walter P Chrysler chairman of the automotive corporation.

Chrysler however stayed on as did all other representatives of the opposing factions.

SLAIN WOMAN ONCE LIVED IN RICHWOOD

Columbus Police Probe Death of Mrs Nellie Mae McMillen in Home

Columbus police today were investigating the death of Mrs Nellie Mae McMillen 45 former resident of Richwood who was found dead at her home yesterday. The Associated Press reported. Police Sergeant C C Cole said he will continue questioning of the husband Owen McMillen 48 who declares his wife fainted and fell striking her head.

Mrs McMillen formerly Miss Nellie Lytle was born and raised in Richwood leaving there about 15 years ago to marry McMillen in Columbus. Richwood relatives said today she had been previously married in Richwood to Otto McAnich according to relatives. McAnich later died.

Surviving in Richwood are a brother C C Lytle two sisters Mrs Mike Weston and Mrs Lydia Hendrickson. She was the daughter of Mr and Mrs Frank Lytle both now dead. Another sister Mrs Ella DeLong lives in Hicksville.

News reports from Columbus stated the husband said he found the wife dead on the floor of the McMillen home on North High street. Dr E E Smith Franklin county coroner said death resulted from a "brain hemorrhage probably due to external violence."

McMillen has denied striking his wife or injuring her in any way but police said they found blood spattered in the dining room and on furniture.

Mrs Weston Mrs Hendrickson and Mr Lytle have gone to Columbus to attend funeral services tomorrow.

U. S. JUDGE ACCUSED OF ACCEPTING FUNDS

Illinois Lawmaker Says Justice Received $35 000 from Chicago Title & Trust Co

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON March 30—Rep Kelly Democrat of Illinois told the house today that Federal Judge John P Barnes of Chicago received a $35 000 fee from the Chicago Title & Trust Co while sitting on the bench.

A special house committee which has investigated real estate bond holders protective committees said Rep O'Malley Democrat of Wisconsin knew about the fee.

The Chicago Title & Trust Co O'Malley said had handled a large number of real estate reorganization cases in Chicago most of which find their way before certain federal judges.

A member of the committee O'Malley had risen to defend it and Chairman Sabath Democrat of Illinois against charges raised against them in the house Thursday by Rep Church Republican of Illinois.

Earlier Sabath asserted at a judiciary committee hearing that disinterested judges had admitted a racket existed in the courts in connection with handling real estate reorganizations.

Prisoner Faints at Sight of Blood Falls and Cuts Himself

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE March 30—Sheriff Homer S Rose Deputy Robert Ackerman Night Officer Frank Gilbert and a local doctor had some exciting hours Sunday.

The happenings started when Sheriff Rose received a telephone call about midnight to go to the home of Mr and Mrs Eugene Kimbrough. There the sheriff found Mr Kimbrough bleeding badly from a cut back of his right ear. Sheriff Rose was told by Mrs Kimbrough that she had hurled a glass cup at her husband's head when he came home intoxicated and she was unable to handle him. The cup struck him directly back of the ear cutting a deep gash.

Kimbrough was treated by a doctor then taken to the county jail. James D Kinnear 45 of Magnetic Springs held on charges of stealing sheep walked to the doorway of his cell near where Kimbrough was placed and fainted at the sight of the blood bandages. In falling Kinnear struck his head against the steel frame of the doorway and cut a gash in the top of his head which required several stitches to close. No charges were filed against Kimbrough and he was released from jail Sunday evening.

NATIONWIDE STRIKE OF MINERS LOOMS

Men To Walk Out Friday Unless Agreement Is Reached on Wages and Hours

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK March 30—The threat of an almost nationwide [illegible] tieup [illegible] over booming [illegible] with wage and hour negotiations between mine and operators still deadlocked.

Only those mines worked by the Progressive Miners of America in [illegible] and a few scattered [illegible] mines elsewhere will operate Friday unless the United Mine Workers and Appalachian producers sign a new contract or extend the present one beforehand.

The present agreement expires on [illegible] at midnight but Thursday is a miners holiday to celebrate [illegible] anniversary of the eight hour [illegible].

Negotiations started Feb 7 now are in the hands of a [illegible] committee of miners and operators [illegible].

[illegible] well informed [illegible] disclosed that only a few tentative concessions had come from each side.

When the negotiations started the miners demanded a cut in the work week from 35 to 30 hours a [illegible] per cent pay raise the [illegible] daily wage now is $5 50 a two weeks vacation with pay and a guarantee of 200 days work each year.

The operators demanded an increase in the work week from 35 to 40 hours with no change in present pay rates.

The committee was slated to hold only a brief meeting today because John L Lewis president of the United Mine Workers will attend a dinner tonight in Harrisburg Pa.

About 400 000 miners would be affected by a strike.

Senator Claims Patronage Offer Is Hinged to Court Bill

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON March 30—The justice department expressed regret today that Sen Holt Democrat of West Virginia had interpreted its action in a judicial appointment as a use of patronage to gain support for President Roosevelt's court bill.

Holt charged in the senate yesterday that after months of ignoring him on patronage the administration had asked his views on naming a new federal judge for West Virginia. Joseph B Keenan assistant attorney general was the official who consulted him Holt said.

He didn't say he was going to give me a judgeship for my vote but he meant if I went along I would get that the senator told his colleagues.

Keenan said he had discussed with Holt's stenographer a nomination thus extending a courtesy as old as the department itself.

Breaks Down Police Report When Confronted With Blood Stained Hammer

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND March 30—Detective Inspector Joseph Sweeney said today Mrs Julia Bender 38 confessed slaying her husband Steve 42-year-old gasoline station operator with a machinist's hammer.

Sweeney said the confession was made after Mrs Bender was confronted with the blood stained hammer which police recovered in the Bender home shortly after Bender was found beaten to death early yesterday morning.

Ballistics expert David Cowles said efforts had been made to wash off the stains.

Sweeney quoted Mrs Bender as saying she had had it in her mind to kill her husband ever since he filed petition for a divorce March 18.

Sponsor Promises To Try Again After Failing in Senate Health Committee

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O March 30—[illegible]

[illegible] Senators [illegible] of [illegible] Howard F Shearer [illegible] of Hamilton [illegible] joined [illegible] voting for the bill. Against were Senators Lawrence A Pare Republican of Hamilton and Harold D Nichols Democrat of Clermont. Four votes were necessary to recommend for passage.

The proposal which would apply to feeble minded and epileptic patients in hospitals supported by the state and to persons called to the attention of probate judges received in a hearing the support of Dr G G Kineon superintendent of the state hospital for epileptics at Gallipolis and Dr F J Keiser superintendent of the state institution for the feeble minded in Columbus. Dr J J Steden Columbus surgeon opposed it.

Dr Kineon asserted Ohio has at least 27 000 epileptics only 2 300 of which are cared for in the state institution and added epilepsy was [illegible] to increase.

Persons released from the Gallipolis institution are advised not to marry he added but many do and their children often are sent to the hospital for epileptics.

He remarked that while sterilization removes the ability to reproduce it does not abolish the desire for procreation or diminish the sex satisfaction.

Dr Kineon said he was one hundred per cent for sterilization of the higher types of feeble minded who could be given a place in society.

Dr Stedem questioned the effect of sterilization on the morality of the persons sterilized.

Fear of conception has a great influence on morality he said. Sterilization would give a greater freedom.

Sen Steele asked

Doesn't most any intelligent person know how to prevent conception?

Dr Stedem said that had not become a definite science as yet.

Value of Toys in Child Training

FUN ON THE FLOOR Toys that a child can work with speed his development.

This is the third of a series of weekly articles on child development and guidance

BY SIGRID ARNE

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON March 30 There are two sorts of toys says Dr Martha M Eliot—those with which a child can do something and those he can only watch.

Children will enjoy their sand boxes blocks balls tools wagons and dolls for years Dr Eliot who is child hygiene director of the Children's bureau points out. But they soon tire of the toys they can only watch because a child wants to be making building doing—not just looking on.

Learns By Playing

Encourage him in this she urges. If he does not develop this interest early in life he may grow up to be the sort of adult who is always just a looker-oner. Play is more than fun for a small child. It is his way of learning.

Here is Dr Eliot's list of toys valuable for their teaching ability.

Teach Him To Play Alone

For a [illegible] shelves [illegible] be [illegible] and off [illegible] danger of breaking [illegible] a toy box. [illegible] the child [illegible] things and [illegible] of [illegible] Dr Eliot [illegible] to teach your child play alone.

[illegible] other children [illegible] commence [illegible] He [illegible] to play his part [illegible] He has made a start [illegible] playing.

But says Dr Eliot playing alone is also important because it teaches him to make his own decisions to concentrate on what he is doing and to be independent.

Blocks—There should be large [illegible] small ones plain and colored on a [illegible] every play room.

Balls—Large ones to roll across the floor small ones to throw rubber ones to bounce.

Large sheets of paper and crayons—These teach a child [illegible] and color. With a pair of blunt scissors the slightly older child can enhance his pleasure [illegible] pasting and folding.

Clay and wet sand—For modeling.

Toys that can be pulled by a string—Especially interesting to a child from two to four years old if the toys are large enough to load with blocks or sand. Electric trains are not suitable for the child under school age.

Washable cloth dolls—Come for the child from four to six. Housekeeping toys of all sorts such as small furniture kitchen pots and stoves durable gardening tools are excellent.

Above all avoid toys that break easily. Through them a young [illegible] may learn to be careless and extravagant.

FOES OF COURT BILL WARN OF DICTATOR

[illegible] minimum wage law was thrown out 14 years ago.

The meaning of the Constitution does not change with the ebb and flow of economic events said Sutherland.

He [illegible] is especially interested in collective bargaining guarantee [illegible] the courts unanimity in the railway labor case.

Whether it foreshadowed a favorable attitude toward the Wagner labor relations act was a topic of conjecture. Sen Wagner Democrat of New York present when the decisions were read made no prediction.

In the Frazier Lemke decision the court pointed out how the revised statute had been drafted to conform with constitutional requirements which it said the first law had violated.

Stress Economic Lines

Backers of the Roosevelt bill studying these decisions strove more noticeably to define the issue along economic lines.

They had less to say about the unanimous decisions than about the fact that one justice who had opposed the New York wage law voted to uphold the Washington act.

Sen Black Democrat of Alabama summed up for the administration forces in the senate.

This is but a clear illustration that as Chief Justice Hughes has said We are under a Constitution but the Constitution is what the judges say it is. There has been a clear line of cleavage in decisions between property rights and human rights.

Chairman Ashurst Democrat of Arizona charged [illegible] to the opponents who have contended the legislation would threaten freedom of religious speech and the press.

[illegible]

New Deal Has 6-0 Score This Term of Court

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON March 30—The supreme court has sided with the administration in six major cases since the present term started last October.

There have been no major rulings against administration laws this term.

Victories yesterday in two cases which resulted in upholding the railway labor act and the Frazier Lemke farm mortgage moratorium law brought the new deal box score to eight victories and eleven defeats since 1933.

This does not include the Washington minimum wage decision a statute favored by the administration.

Here is the record since the Roosevelt administration came into power:

Won (Previous Term)

5 to 4—Original gold devaluation cases
8 to 1—TVA

Won (This Term)

7 to 1 Arms embargo to Chaco war
8 to 0—Prison labor
8 to 0—Silver profits
5 to 4—Abrogation of gold payments applied to bullion
9 to 0—Frazier Lemke
9 to 0 Railway labor

Lost

9 to 0—NRA
6 to 3—AAA
6 to 3—Wage and hour regulations of Guffey coal act invalid
8 to 1—Federal regulation of hot oil shipments
9 to 0—Conversion of building and loan associations to federal charters when opposed by states
9 to 0—President Roosevelt's dismissal of the late William E Humphrey as a member of the federal trade commission
9 to 0—Original farm mortgage moratorium act
9 to 0—AAA processing taxes impounded in federal courts must be refunded
6 to 3—Securities commission lost attempt to compel J Edward Jones New York stock dealer to testify about a proposed issue of securities withdrawn before their registration became effective yesterday with Gov Kirkman's signature.

Controversy over the Ohio law already had been appealed to the supreme court but authorities said yesterday's decision probably would make a hearing unnecessary. The law was upheld by a lower court.

Like an Illinois law the Ohio statute was patterned after the New York measure.

When the court found the New York law unconstitutional last June President Roosevelt said a no man's land of [illegible] had been created in which neither the states nor federal government could operate.

The New York law required employers to pay no more than the value of services rendered. The Washington act however compelled employers to pay a wage sufficient to provide the necessary cost of living and to maintain the workers in health.

"HANDS OFF" POLICY ADOPTED BY BOARDS

after [illegible] sentiment favored the move.

Elimination of three more one room schools in North Bloomfield township is slated for 1938 with pupils switching to Iberia. Although residents of the North Bloomfield district and Iberia favor the move it is being held up pending improvement of a road from Midway station on the Mt Gilead Galion road eastward over which the township's pupils would be transported. Consequently the change is not set for the coming term.

The Morrow county board closed its neutrality [illegible] by abandoning early proposals to eliminate two one room buildings in Gilead township and one one room school in Climax district when objections were voiced last night by residents of those districts. The elimination would do away with these districts and permit their absorption by nearby districts. Although not insistent on the changes the county board asked members of the rural boards in those districts what they would do if the state department withheld school foundation funds next term. The district boards answered they would operate on local revenue pointing to substantial balances in their treasuries that would permit operations for several years without state help.

Two Areas Satisfied

Rural schools in Bloomingrove and Fulton district have not been considered in connection with possible changes the local communities and the county board apparently is agreeing their present set up is satisfactory.

Morrow county with 15 one room schools remaining after the proposed elimination of four in last night meeting is believed to have one of the largest number of one room schools in any north central Ohio county. Ten years ago it had 80 one room buildings.

In Marion county [illegible] year several boundary changes including some that would eliminate the last one room schools in the county were proposed by the county board and adopted. Residents of the affected areas signed remonstrances that shelved a major part of the changes and the part of the program not killed by remonstrances was [illegible] in common pleas court by Marion township rural board members. The suit still is pending.

RESIGNS TO FIGHT FOR COURT BILL

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON March 30—Raymond B Stevens of New Hampshire resigned today as a member of the tariff commission to take an active part in behalf of President Roosevelt's supreme court reorganization program.

Your proposals Stevens wrote President Roosevelt, should put an end to tortured constructions of the Constitution that embody the economic predilections of individual judges.

USE OF TAG FUNDS FOR RELIEF BARRED

es was denounced by Friedman as a paradise for loan sharks.

The committee deferred action on the bill.

Keeps Plan Secret

Sen Harold D Nichols Democrat of Clermont asserted he believed relief could be handled without new taxes. He declined to disclose his plan until he introduces his two-year relief program probably today or tomorrow.

Meanwhile the house finance committee after adding $665 [illegible] recommended for passage a biennial appropriations bill carrying $89 098 538. The house may vote on it early next week and it will go to the senate where numerous revisions are expected.

The judges retirement bill remained on the senate calendar after its author Sen E Mathews Steele Democrat of Clinton fearing defeat had a vote postponed on it yesterday.

The senate at the suggestion of Republican Floor Leader Verner F Metcalf of Marietta struck out permission for judges to resign in mid term and still receive a pension. If they had reached 65 and served 18 years they could retire on three fourths pay after giving a year's notice of retirement.

Fears Judge Bribery

Before the amendment was adopted Metcalf said the bill would permit the legislature to bribe judges to resign.

A bill to increase the salaries of the state director of commerce superintendent of building and loans and superintendent of insurance defeated last week was reconsidered by the senate and recommitted to committee.

The house refused to concur in senate amendments to a bill to permit the remaining members and the county engineer to appoint to a vacancy on the board of county commissioners. The probate judge auditor and recorder now fill the vacancies.

The house's vote on the amendments which included an emergency clause to make the bill effective immediately was 67 for to 36 against while 91 favorable votes were necessary. The bill probably will be sent to a conference committee of the senate and house if the senate does not recede from its amendments.

Wolf Bounty Brings Howls

Amid a chorus of howls that almost drowned out speakers the house voted 107 to 1 to put a $10 bounty on wolves and coyotes and sent the bill to the senate. Rep Paul J Dunn Democrat of Tuscarawas who cast the dissenting vote said "we don't have any wolves or coyotes in Tuscarawas county and I don't believe it's a very good bill anyway."

A bill requiring the counties and state to share equally a $2 50 a day cost for care of the insane in [illegible] state hospital went to the governor after the house concurred in senate amendment. The measure carries $770 000 to pay the state's share.

Another measure sent to the governor would authorize municipalities to fund outstanding scrip issued against delinquent taxes.

The senate political subdivisions committee reported out a house approved bill to increase the salaries of county commissioners.

SUSPECT IN FAKE DEALS ARRESTED

By The Associated Press

INDIANAPOLIS Ind March 30—Warren T Marr 46 who said he was a former millionaire real estate dealer and husband of a movie actress was placed in jail today after Capt Mat Leach of the state police said he had gotten more than $80 000 through fake stock deals with Indiana residents.

Leach said further investigation may increase the amount to more than $100 000. He added Marr also was wanted by federal authorities in California on a fake security charge and for escape from the Pasadena jail last year. Marr was arrested at Marion [illegible] yesterday.

Leach said Marr told investigators he was the divorced husband of Alice Marr [illegible] actress.

Real Estate Activity Shows Pick-up in First Quarter

Real estate activity in Marion county shows a slight improvement in the first 12 weeks of this year over the same period of last year, according to quarterly figures compiled from records in the office of County Recorder Paul Nafzer. This year 325 transfers of property have been made while last year only 312 had been effected.

Farm mortgage loans so far this year total $167,417 or $38,316 more than the $129,601 made to the same date in 1936. There were 56 farm loans last year and 53 this year.

City loans, however, have dropped off 47,641 from $272,906 of last year to $225,261 of this year. The number of city loans dropped from 106 to 102.

The total of 171 mortgage loans so far this year is [illegible] as against 185 loans last year with a total of [illegible].

Mr. Nafzer said the decrease in total loans came in spite of the fact that the Home Owners' Loan Corporation ceased to be a lending agency last June and was in full force during the first quarter of last year.

He also said more sheriff's deeds of foreclosure have been filed this year than last year, accounting for a large part of the increase in realty transfers.

STRIKE VOTE RESULT SECRET AT NORWOOD

Change in Plans Given as Reason for Withholding Election Outcome.

By The Associated Press

A change in plans was advanced today as the reason for withholding the result of a vote on a proposal advanced by Remington Rand Inc. for a return to work at its Norwood, O. plant.

Elsewhere on the Ohio labor front a conference failed to break a deadlock on a strike of retail clerks at F. W. Woolworth store in Akron and a "harmony" meeting was scheduled at Cleveland tonight between American Federation of Labor and Committee for Industrial Organization unions.

Balloting was held for several days among former Remington-Rand employes and union officials said the result would be announced at Cincinnati last night.

The scheduled announcement was not made.

At New York James H. Rand Jr., president of the company, said he knew of no change in the plan for settlement.

The plan, Rand said, was agreed to at negotiations with William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, in the presence of Secretary of Labor Perkins.

SPECIAL MESSAGE OF INTEREST HERE

A brief message intended only for residents of Marion and vicinity will be broadcast Thursday at 6:15 p. m. and on Friday at 8:15 a. m. and 5:45 p. m., over station WRNS in Columbus, it was reported today.

The NBC spelling bee is arranging a match for the near future between English and American spellers over a two-way short wave system. No date has been set.

Louis J. Taber, master of national grange, will speak against the supreme court plan tonight over WOR-MBS at 10:30 and Sen. Joseph T. Robinson will defend it at 10:30 over WABC-CBS.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES LISTED IN O.S.U. NEWS

Marion and Neighbor Points Represented in Music and Agriculture Programs.

Activities of music and agriculture students at Ohio State university are being participated in by students from Marion and vicinity, according to a news report from the university.

Doris J. Fitzgerald of Marion is one of 200 students selected as outstanding [illegible] who will compose the university mixed chorus which will give its annual concert Sunday, March [illegible] at 3 p. m. in the men's gymnasium, under the direction of Professor Louis H. Diercks. Among others selected for the chorus are Laura Barber of Ashley, Margaret Kaelber of Delaware, Hubert Porter of Marengo, Rose Vance of Milford Center, Carol E. Truex of Mt. Gilead and Charles Tome and Milton Baker of Prospect.

The university's concert band will make its annual spring tour next month. The personnel includes Robert Haldeman of Marion, second horn; Nelson Griffith of Delaware, third clarinet; Charles Ryder of Bucyrus, first clarinet; Robert Schorr of Bucyrus, alto clarinet; Richard Downs of Marion, BB bass; Robert Downs of Marion, second clarinet; Robert Berger of Marysville, tympani; Loren McNeal of Prospect, solo BB clarinet. On April 13 a concert will be given in Urbana, the nearest to Marion the band will appear on its tour.

V. H. Eichorn of Marion is a member of the Townsend Agriculture Education society, named for the first professor of agriculture at the university, and one of the most active student groups in the university's college of agriculture. The membership also includes G. W. Augustine of Ashley, C. N. Griffith of Delaware, R. D. Lenox of Magnetic Springs, F. A. Throckmorton of Marengo, E. E. Bell of Marysville and D. J. Foos and J. H. Foos of Richwood.

BUSINESS MEN OF LARUE HOLD DINNER

Special to The Star

LARUE, March 30—Twenty-five members of the local Business Men's association were present at the bi-monthly dinner held Tuesday evening in the K. of P. dining room. E. E. Blazer presided for a business session at which time plans were made to entertain the women at a dinner April 9. Fred E. Guthery of Marion will be the guest speaker.

The association also voted to sponsor a boy from the junior class of the high school to the Boys' State at Columbus this summer. Keith Ridgway reported on the progress of the Boy Scout movement, announcing April 6 as the date of the first official meeting under the charter.

Invite Serious Complications

One of the worst things you can do is "kid around" with a cold.

The so-called "common cold" causes more serious sickness and more enforced absence from work than anything else.

It's a mistake to treat a cold lightly. A cold calls for a cold treatment and not a "cure-all". A cold calls for internal treatment, for a cold is an internal infection.

One of the best things you can take for a cold is Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine. Your own doctor will tell you that.

First of all, Bromo Quinine is a cold tablet, made expressly for the treatment of colds.

Secondly it is internal medication and of fourfold effect.

Here's what it does:

First, it opens the bowels, an advisable step in treating a cold.

Second, it checks the infection in the system.

Third, it reliev

To those who must think twice to keep the budget within the pay envelope —

HOW many times each day — each week — must you say, "We can't afford it?" Perhaps you say it aloud as a statement of refusal. More likely it is repeated silently — registered almost automatically in your mind as some object of desire attracts your attention. Sometimes this statement means real denial on your part, perhaps of something that you once thought to be essential.

Often it has taken courage to say, "We can't afford it." But it is that courage, coupled with your ability to judge what you can afford, that has kept your budget within the limits of your pay envelope.

The coming of better times likely has meant that it is not necessary quite so often to say, "We can't afford it." Yes, it's a better feeling, but we should not interpret this as a signal for spending unwisely.

Back in 1930 and 1931, The Gas Company used sales and advertising methods in an attempt to sell you an Electrolux gas refrigerator. Likely you told either us or yourself that you couldn't afford it. This gas refrigerator then had been on the market only a few years and had not won the general public acceptance that it enjoys today. Perhaps you did not feel that you could afford any method of automatic refrigeration at that time. It may be that you felt the gas refrigerator was too new, and you couldn't afford to experiment. Besides, you knew where you could buy an automatic refrigerator that sold for considerably less.

In those times, we sold but few gas refrigerators to families operating on a close budget. Most of our refrigerators were sold in homes of the more well-to-do families. These people could more nearly afford to buy a new product, even though many of them thought it was somewhat of an experiment. They could afford to pay a premium for an automatic refrigerator that operated silently. Of course they soon discovered the economy of its operation, compared to other methods of refrigeration. As years went on, they learned the value of having no moving parts in a refrigerator, because replacement of worn parts was not necessary. Families who thought they were buying luxury refrigeration were finding out for the first time what safe, dependable refrigeration with economy really meant.

Word of this soon found its way into the homes of those who operated on smaller budgets. We assure you there was no attempt on our part to keep this good news a secret. Meanwhile, the Servel Electrolux organization had perfected the air-cooled gas refrigerator — had brought about many refinements in efficiency, convenience and design.

In the heart of the depression, before business generally had started its upturn, we experienced a greatly increased demand for gas refrigerators. We discovered that the Electrolux was going into a new class of homes in numbers exceeding our fondest hopes. It was going into homes of families who must make each nickel, each quarter and each dollar count. For the last three years, the largest portion of our sales have been to families who felt that they wanted gas refrigeration, not only because it is the best, but because they couldn't afford any other kind.

Today there still are numerous refrigerators on the market priced lower than an Electrolux, but purchasing a refrigerator that is cheaper in price does not mean you are buying with economy or getting as much for your hard-earned dollars. Low prices do not in themselves mean bargains. To be a bargain the purchase must be a sound investment. The purchase of a gas refrigerator is a good investment from which you will reap a profit for years to come. With limited dollars to invest in refrigeration, you are interested in making them work for you as long as possible. More families in your circumstances than ever before are realizing this, and buying gas refrigerators.

So, before saying, "We can't afford to buy a gas refrigerator this year," discuss the matter with your friends who own them. Talk to a representative of The Gas Company to learn how you can pay for a gas refrigerator on easy terms out of the saving it will make for you. Do this, and you likely will decide as have a multitude of others . . . it is false economy to put off buying an Electrolux gas refrigerator.

Janet Gaynor says:

"Leading artists of the screen prefer Luckies"

"I live at the beach most of the year and there is hardly a weekend that a number of friends don't drop in. Naturally, I keep several brands of cigarettes on hand for guests, but the Luckies are always the first to disappear. I suppose it's just natural that Luckies would be the favorite brand because most of my friends in pictures have discovered that the long hours of rehearsing and shooting at the studio place a severe tax on the throat. Leading artists of the screen prefer Luckies because they are a light smoke that sympathizes with tender throats."

Janet Gaynor

FEMININE STAR OF DAVID O. SELZNICK'S TECHNICOLOR PRODUCTION OF "A STAR IS BORN"

An independent survey was made recently among professional men and women—lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc. Of those who said they smoke cigarettes, more than 87% stated they personally prefer a light smoke.

Miss Gaynor verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That's why so many of them smoke Luckies. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on the throat.

Spring Scene

MARCH would be a dismal month indeed if man had no imagination. Fortunately hope springs eternal, and each returning Spring sees new ideas, new aspirations brought once more to life.

"We'll do that in the Spring" is a familiar expression. Plans shelved during the Winter are dusted off. Now the family talks about replacing the old car ... buying new clothes ... a new radio ... dahlia bulbs ... paint for the garage. A thousand things are needed ... a thousand tasks must be done.

Here in the advertising pages of this newspaper is real Spring news. Articles you need, carefully selected and arranged, are paraded before your critical eyes. Read the advertisements thoughtfully ... and so choose wisely. For advertisements, the market's guide to good values, will be your guide to a happier, more cheerful Spring.

Guest Day Party Held by Club at Thatcher Home

A DELIGHTFUL social affair on the Searchlight club's program this season was the guest day party held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs J P Thatcher on South Prospect street. The guests were welcomed by the president Mrs L A Robinson and the members responded to roll call with spring verses. Mrs S L Surface conducted the devotionals. An informal talk by Mrs Everett Grigsby president of the Marion County Federation of Women's clubs was followed by a group of voice numbers by Mrs Clarence L Rutherford accompanied at the piano by Mrs Harry J Williams.

Attorney Russell M Wilhelm was a guest speaker and gave an interesting talk on the topic Laws Every Woman Should Know.

Spring flowers formed the centerpiece for the tea table where Mrs Robinson and Mrs C V Roop vice president presided during a social hour. Guests included Mrs Ed Roberts of Mt Gilead, Mrs Grigsby, Mrs Frank Annen, Mrs W H Holverstot, Mrs R H Koster, Mrs F J Cleveland, Mrs Don Biggert, Mrs H G Stiler, Mrs Erwin Bruthaupt, Mrs O V Roby, Mrs Emil Sweney, Mrs M A Elsey, Mrs J W Baker, Mrs Roscoe Ruhlman, Mrs A J Myers, Mrs I E Nebergall, Mrs F M Brabson, Miss Clara Kowalke, Mrs M I McDaniel, Miss Floretta Almendinger, Mrs N Sifritt and Mrs Mildred Hunter.

Assisting Mrs Thatcher as hostesses were Mrs S L Surface chairman, Mrs R A Carvin and Mrs J W Hungate members of the social committee. Mrs J L Smith program chairman arranged the program. The club will meet in two weeks with Mrs Smith at her home on West Church street.

The bride wore a [illegible] with [illegible] accessories. [illegible] attended by [illegible] Harold Price brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs [illegible] of [illegible]. She was graduated from the North Lewisburg High school in 1930 and attended Normal [illegible] college at Urbana. Mr Price is the son of Mr and Mrs [illegible] Price of 775 [illegible] avenue and is employed with the Marion Steam Shovel Co.

Miss A[illegible] Funkle daughter of Mr and Mrs John [illegible] Funkle of North Main street and [illegible] Haycook son of Mrs [illegible] Haycook of 206 Oak street were united in marriage Easter morning at 9:15 o'clock at the Green Camp M E church by Rev Cecil Fogle pastor.

Mr and Mrs Haycook will make their home in Marion. Mr Haycook is employed as a machinist at the Marion Steam Shovel Co.

Announcement was made today of the marriage of Miss Estella Wolfinger daughter of Mr and Mrs I F Wolfinger of the Richland pike and Russell Robinson son of Mr and Mrs C C Robinson of Radnor which took place Sunday noon at the home of the bride's parents. Rev Henry Maag pastor of the Prospect Street M E church read the single ring service before an improvised altar of ferns and snapdragons.

As the bridal party descended the stairs Miss Martha Almendinger at the piano played Mendelssohn's Wedding March and during the ceremony played softly Oh Promise Me. Vocal music included Ah Sweet Mystery of Life and I Love You Truly by Robert Rice.

The bride wore a floor length gown of peach coronation lace with white accessories and carried an arm bouquet of white roses. Her only attendant was her sister Miss Jeannette Wolfinger who wore a floor length dress of blue georgette with white accessories. She carried an arm bouquet of peach United roses. Cecil Robinson brother of the bridegroom was the best man.

Covers were laid for 35 at a wedding dinner. The bride's table was centered with a three tier cake decorated in her wedding colors of peach and blue.

Mr and Mrs Robinson left in the afternoon for Washington D C. For traveling the bride wore a blue suit with gray accessories. Upon their return they will be at home at 11 University avenue in Delaware where Mr Robinson is associated with his father in the implement business.

The bride was graduated from the Waldo High school in 1931. Mr Robinson was graduated from the Radnor High school in 1929.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr and Mrs C C Robinson and family of Radnor, Miss Hilda Selter and Ernest Weiss of Cincinnati.

BEGGAR A HERO IN MARYSVILLE FIRE

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE March 30—The timely arrival of Harry Eaton a transient who was going from house to house seeking food probably saved the home of Mr and Mrs Philip Unthank here from burning Monday afternoon. Eaton noticed the blaze and hurried to the back door of the house and told Mrs Unthank her home was on fire. She immediately telephoned the fire department.

The blaze had eaten a large hole in the roof and had started to spread on the second floor. Mr and Mrs Unthank were concerned about the safety of the latter's mother Mrs Martha Johnson who was confined in a bed on the second floor with a broken leg. They made arrangements to have Mrs Johnson removed in case the fire got out of control.

SERVICES HELD

LEECH March 30—Baptismal services and reception of members was held Easter [illegible] by the pastor Rev C A Ram[illegible] following the sermon. The [illegible] at the Salem Evangelical church.

Beverly - Fabian Ceremony Read At St Mary Today

THE MARRIAGE of Ma[illegible] [illegible] Fabian [illegible] Mary's church. The [illegible] Joseph [illegible] read the ceremony and Rev [illegible] of [illegible] was [illegible] of the mass.

The bride's gown was of white lace over satin. It had a short train and the [illegible] waist line gave fullness to the skirt. The tucking was repeated in the [illegible] which finished the high neckline and the leg o' mutton sleeves ended in points at the wrist. Her finger tip veil was held to her head with a wreath of feverfew and she carried a nosegay of white roses, feverfew and white sweet peas.

Miss Mary Louise Fabian sister of the bridegroom was the bride's only attendant. She wore a gown of blue lace over yellow taffeta made princess style and trimmed with [illegible] buttons from the neck to the hemline front. Her large picture hat was of yellow taffeta and her flowers were Talisman roses and blue cornflowers tied with matching ribbon.

Richard Beverly brother of the bride was Mr Fabian's best man and the ushers were William [illegible] and Charles Davis. Two tall [illegible] baskets filled with pink and white snapdragons and stocks stood inside the entrance into the sanctuary.

The bride's mother wore a gray suit with navy blue accessories with a shoulder corsage of gardenias, [illegible] and white sweet peas and the bridegroom's mother was attired in a flowered crepe gown with harmonizing accessories. Her shoulder corsage was Talisman roses and pink sweet peas.

Following the ceremony there was a wedding breakfast at Ringer Inn and later Mr and Mrs Fabian left on a wedding trip in the south. For traveling Mrs Fabian wore a suit in a shrimp shade with gray accessories. Upon their return they will live at 968 Congress street.

The bride was graduated from the Westerville High school in 1934 and the bridegroom from St Mary Parochial High school in the same year. Mr Fabian is employed with the Marion Steam Shovel Co.

Guests Learn That Leslie Was Freed by the Chief

L[illegible] Mary's [illegible] were we [illegible] awaiting final orders from my father [illegible] to [illegible] Mary and to me and I [illegible] Dicky and Harry as we. We had [illegible] he had [illegible] Mary and were [illegible] from [illegible].

Lillian alone had realized the significance of his presence. For the [illegible] that the secret of the [illegible] Perkins Inn, my father's [illegible] hideout, was a secret no [illegible] and that [illegible] Leslie's discovery of it all would [illegible] to her [illegible] accomplished [illegible] his present struggle [illegible] in the hot place.

How—how awful Mary quavered but beyond keeping my arm comfortingly around her I gave her scant attention for I knew that Lillian's announcement had meant less to her than to any of the rest of us for she was still obsessed with Noel's danger because Leslie his bitter enemy knew his whereabouts. But to the rest of us it was a feeling only more intensified than that of the other horror of my great love for my father. Jack Leslie's discovery of his secret retreat [illegible] tragedy, folk and hopeless.

Ready for Battle

Look here Dicky said truculently We can't take this lying down. That capering cockroach threw a challenge right in our faces. I'm for going out and cramming it down his throat. I'll warrant by the time I'm through with him he won't be issuing any more challenges for a while, neither will he be spilling any beans about his betters.

Spoken like a good man and true, Lillian chanted and I knew by her tone that she meant to put my rambunctious husband through a process of deflation. You run right out with your cartel of defiance and we'll get the wreaths and Gates Ajar ready against the time you're brought back plugged good and proper with souvenirs from the revolvers of the gifted Mr Leslie's little pals.

You poor sap she ran on. You don't think little Jackie's doing a Lochinvar stunt on his own do you, hoping to grab Mary and run off with her? Nay nay little one depend on it—he has plenty gorillas parked where they can do the most good. Me I'm glad I'm safe indoors just now. I've got no desire whatsoever to rub noses with Mr Leslie or any of his cohorts.

But Harry she added insistently don't you think we ought to tell Miss Perkins what we have just seen Leslie do?

Summons Landlady

I think it would be the thing to do her big husband returned and it probably would keep your conscience from working overtime. But if I'm not greatly mistaken Polly Perkins isn't missing any bets. A hundred to one she knows all about Jack Leslie and all his works. However we can but try.

He went to the house telephone and asked that Miss Perkins come to our apartment. She was at our door two minutes later listening attentively to our account of what had happened and Lillian's guarded statement shielding Mary as much as possible that Leslie had a personal grievance against one of our party and that we hoped he simply had traced our movements to what he thought was our hiding place and was in ignorance of the secret hide-out camouflaged by the inn.

That of course is on the lap of the gods she said but you are mistaken in thinking he is here simply because of you people. He is up to his neck in this thing the chief is tracking down but he aren't make a [illegible] today [illegible] Mr Spencer [illegible]

Chief Freed Him

I don't [illegible] the chief will be [illegible] I [illegible] Leslie [illegible] the chief hoped that he would go straight to a certain place. He did [illegible] Mr Spencer [illegible] some very important [illegible] the papers.

Well I [illegible] Lillian [illegible] exclaimed Good for the foxy old chief. But [illegible] somebody must have thrown a few chunks somewhere for I'm sure [illegible] he never would have dared to go hopping this morning if he had known Jack Leslie was where he could see us.

I don't [illegible] Miss Perkins said [illegible]. The chief counted on [illegible] free. He found out that Leslie was headed for a spot about [illegible] from the one from which [illegible] was to make his contacts. But [illegible] he discovered that Leslie had [illegible] here. He got in touch with me immediately and explained how necessary it was that you should not be seen by Leslie. That was the reason for Ted's unusual kidnaping. Even as you were shopping this morning I thought you had eluded Leslie altogether but he must have had some inkling of where you were and acted accordingly.

But I do not think although I may be mistaken that he has penetrated the real secret of the Polly Perkins Inn.

Mrs. Harris Points Way To End of Washday Gloom

[illegible] friends in Marion. One of [illegible] important contributions [illegible] to modern household [illegible] has been the taking of [illegible] of the traditional wash-

[illegible] other words, if modern meth[illegible] are linked with up-to-date [illegible] and dependable products, [illegible] laundry should move as [illegible] as any other part of the [illegible] machinery.

[illegible] is no reason for regarding washday as a dread nightmare, if the job is treated systematically, particularly if modern laundry aids are required to yield 100 per cent service. Primitive methods were responsible for the truly primitive view which discolored washday as "blue Monday."

Part of that attitude was the conviction that frequent laundering wore out clothes, as indeed it did in the early days, for hard scrubbing and harsh soaps were just as damaging to materials as the practice of thumping garments with sticks in a muddy stream.

Actual Protection

Actually, years of education have been necessary to convince the cautious housewife that frequent launderings with reliable soap give more than an "ounce of protection," that is, frequent launderings are proved to lengthen the life of clothing. Prompt washing certainly prevents hard rubbing, as well as quickly getting rid of harmful perspiration, the sure enemy of many materials.

Sort the laundry thoroughly the night before, sewing on buttons or doing needed mending jobs to give that "stitch in time." Soak the soiled clothing overnight unless you prefer to start in early morning.

Many workers consider that the rapid action of a dependable, quick-dissolving soap powder makes long soaking unnecessary. The one advantage is that it does speed up the morning schedule.

Give special attention to soaping collarbands and cuffs. Often I hear complaints that men's shirts wear out too quickly and the damage is blamed on the laundry, whether it is done outside or at home. In many cases the garments do not get washed often enough, or thoroughly enough.

Don't be afraid of demanding full-time service from your mechanical servants. Learn everything you can about the possibilities of electrical laundry equipment, and then don't be afraid to pile extra garments and linens into the laundry. In addition to prolonging the life of the clothing, that extra washing will eliminate preliminary rubbing and mending work.

Removing Grease Spots

If the man of the house has bad grease spots on shirts or underwear, rub a little kerosene into the stained part of the fabric. When the stained garment, thus treated, goes into warm, fresh suds, the spots will vanish, providing the treatment was prompt. The sun will finish the clean-up work.

Another laundry help is the use of a small faucet filter, which will prevent spotting and discoloration from rust scale in water pipes.

Complaints about modern mechanical wringers usually can be traced to impatience, when haste does make trouble. Fold garments carefully so that snaps, hooks and tiny buttons are inside, and remove large and decorative buttons. Distribute garment evenly along the rolls to prevent bunching and excessive wrinkling.

While numerous small articles such and handkerchiefs may be run through the wringer with towels or pillow slips, hand ironing of small linens, such as napkins, luncheon runners, or cloths, and special hankies, will be made easier if they are lightly squeezed from the last rinsing water by hand, and rolled in a heavy turkish towel, until ironing time comes.

THE SAFE, SENSIBLE WAY TO RELIEVE CONSTIPATION

Every one knows the dangers of constipation. Pills and drugs usually bring only temporary relief. That's because common constipation is due to meals low in "bulk."

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN contains "bulk" that does not break down in the body as does that of many leafy vegetables. ALL-BRAN absorbs twice its weight in water and forms a soft mass that gently sponges the intestines.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a food — not a medicine. In addition to "bulk"—it gives vitamin B to tone up the system, and iron for the blood. It is a healthful way to get rid of constipation and all its evils.

Eat two tablespoonfuls daily with milk or cream — three times a day in severe cases. Or use it in making bran muffins, breads, in salads or soups. Guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

QUARTET'S PROGRAM OPEN TO PUBLIC

The program by the Cincinnati Bible Seminary Kilties tonight at 7:30 at the Central Christian church, will be open to the public. An invitation to attend was extended today by Dr. Harry L. Bell, pastor, and Rev. Carl V. Roop of the First United Brethren church. The two churches will sponsor the program.

George N. Rule of Galion and Marion is second tenor with the quartet and Robert Dellinger, a member of the First United Brethren church, is the accompanist. The quartet recently returned from a tour of the south and will leave in the near future on a tour of western states which will end next September. The program will include the Scottish Highland war pipes, Scotch classics, humorous and sacred selections and a talk on the quartet's Scotch military costumes by Chief W. L. Nimmo, director.

Chicken A La King Mixtures Make Savory Buffet Suppers

CHICKEN A LA KING

Sprigs of parsley top these shortcakes served with chicken a la king. Buttered peas are a savory addition.

BY MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE
Associated Press Writer

A La King mixtures—chicken with peas, lobster with asparagus spears, duck with buttered green beans—are especially suitable for the spring luncheon or buffet supper.

All sorts of combinations may be made. Mushrooms, hard-cooked eggs, sweet breads, fish, fowl and many other meats blend nicely with a well-seasoned white sauce to which uncooked eggs are added. And the mixture may be served poured over hot toast, crackers or biscuits. It also may be used as a filling for biscuit and shortcake patty shells or cases.

Eggs Add Color

The difference between a la king mixtures and ordinary creamed combinations is that the former are yellower, creamier and more velvety. (The color is caused by the eggs which are added just before the dish is served.)

Chicken, fish and duck a la kings are already comparatively well known and popular. Eggs a la king, however, are just as tasty but not nearly as well known. And numerous other combinations are just as delectable, including lobster, crab and shrimp mixtures.

For those who like to add a bit of sherry to their cooking, the a la king dish offers an excellent opportunity. (Approximately two tablespoonsful may be allowed for each two cups.)

Here's Secret

One of the most important secrets of the success of such combinations lies in adding the uncooked eggs just before the dish is served. If the eggs are allowed to cook for any length of time curdling is liable to result.

Good pastry shells call for an almost professional touch in making them. A rich biscuit dough may be made to serve the purpose, however, by shaping it into individual shortcakes or baking the dough in small tart pans.

Individual Shortcakes

Three cups sifted cake flour, 3 teaspoons double-acting baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ cup butter or other shortening, ¾ cup milk.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt and sift again. Cut in shortening. Add milk all at once and stir carefully until all the flour is dampened. Then stir vigorously until mixture forms a soft dough and follows spoon around bowl. Turn out immediately on slightly floured board and knead 30 seconds. Roll ¼ inch thick and cut with floured 3 inch biscuit cutter. Place half of circles on ungreased baking sheet. Brush with melted butter. Place remaining circles on top and butter tops well. Bake in hot oven (450 degrees F.) 15 to 20 minutes. Separate halves of hot biscuits.

This recipe will serve 6 persons.

Chicken A La King

Five tablespoons butter or chicken fat, 6 tablespoons flour, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon paprika, 2 tablespoons minced green peppers, cooked, 2 tablespoons minced pimientos, 2 tablespoons minced celery, cooked, ¾ cup cooked mushrooms, 3 cups milk, 1½ cups diced cooked chicken, 2 eggs beaten or 4 egg yolks.

Melt the butter and add the flour. When thoroughly blended add the seasonings, mushrooms and milk. Cook slowly and stir constantly until a thick, creamy sauce forms. Add the chicken and cook 2 minutes. Add the eggs, mixing them in well. Cook one minute and serve immediately. Although white meat is preferable it is not essential. The chicken should not be cut as finely as when it is used for salad.

EVE'S ORCHARD

By MARGARET WIDDEMER

(Copyright, 1937, by Margaret Widdemer)

SYNOPSIS: Eve Mannersfield no sooner returns to rural Connecticut after five working years in New York, than she is joined in her 200-year-old house and orchard by the penniless Featherstones and their serious young son, Judge. Uncle Henry, an old family friend, moves in too, to help run the place. George Cleveland, Eve's calm, practical neighbor, declares his love, but she is engaged to gay city-loving Denny and crazy about him. A job with George's steel magnate father is what Denny wants. Walking in the orchard, Denny and Eve encounter George.

CHAPTER TWENTY-NINE

Ellen Bares Her Heart

GEORGE backed down a ladder behind a tree a little way ahead of Denny and Eve, and stood squarely in their path in his leather working clothes, a handful of twigs in his hands. "You can't help hearing your own name, you know." His face was a little rigid. But he spoke with his ordinary slow steadiness. "Would you feel it was going over Mrs. Powers's head, Carter, if I gave you a hand up with my father?"

"Good lord, Cleveland, no!" Denny's face was radiant. "Grateful as a pup. All I'd ask would be a chance to show him my credentials, experience, have a chance to talk to him or his employment manager—"

"All right. I'll see that you talk to him when he gets back from his match this afternoon."

"Cleveland, you're a prince! I'll dash off to my room and dig over my folder of stuff a bit. I say, you don't know—well, if you were listening I guess you do—what this means to Eve and me!"

"Yes, I do," said George. He stood quite still, facing Eve while Denny ran fleetly like a joyous small boy back to the house.

She threw her hands out, crying "Oh, George, you're wonderful!"

But he moved a little away from her, and she saw that his face was pale under the sunburn.

"I'm not wonderful," he said. "But—I can't stand it any more. If I can't have you myself, I don't want you where I can see you all the time. I thought I could. Last night I found out I couldn't. I was going to ask you again this morning, make sure one way or the other. It was our sitting there together, with the old man and the kid, you singing to me, a sort of dreadful heavenly imitation of our being married and happy. That was why I got up so early . . .

"I can't move a three-year-long experiment. But I can hurry up your marriage. You'll be back in your city life. In time I'll get over you, I hope, and even marry some[illegible] [illegible] Eve [illegible] and go [illegible] now."

I [illegible] of her [illegible] Eve [illegible] that the[illegible] were [illegible] clear [illegible] face [illegible] went back [illegible] path.

Denny Gets the Job

Denny came back radiant from [illegible] He [illegible] his arms in the [illegible] with [illegible] at the foot of the [illegible]. "It's almost [illegible] The [illegible] you for [illegible] If we had [illegible] for this [illegible] to fight over Mitzi."

"Telephone me the minute you know."

"Practically [illegible] now." He turned at the door for one last wave and a [illegible] "Darling, don't get too far gone on the gardener, cook and strawberry [illegible] If all goes well, we're making a night club of it!"

With a final violent embrace he was off, leaving Eve laughing at him, [illegible] but puzzled a little too. Didn't he want her to be happy out here? Or had she shown too little interest in New York things and too much in what she had been doing? New York did seem far away.

But then any place did where you weren't.

And then Judge ran around from the side of the house shouting to her that the most wonderful thing was going to happen. Uncle Henry said that he knew where there was a lady pig with a lot of little pigs and there was one called a runt he could get for Judge.

"And there's a pig pen way off by the barn back of the orchard and it can eat what we leave, only Uncle Henry says you're the mistress here, and I have to ask you—"

Well, you had to be interested in that! Though she knew that if it had gone so far as Uncle Henry's suggestion, the pig was practically a Mannersfield pig this minute.

She went about the rest of that day and all the next in a daze of hopeful excitement. Ellen Walton came out Monday morning. She was through in New York, she said quietly. She had other plans. Eve could scarcely pay attention; every nerve was strained toward the telephone bell. Finally at 7:30 it rang.

"Darling, I've got it!"

After they had talked themselves out to the tune of a dollar's worth of rapture, Eve hung up. She looked around in wild excitement for some one to tell it to. Everybody was out but Ellen, whom she ran to earth in her bedroom walking up and down with her brown head bowed, muttering a part she was learning from a blue-covered book in her hand. Eve threw her arms around her.

"Ellen, Ellen, Denny has his job with Northern Steel! We'll be marrying and living happy ever after by the middle of June! Isn't it heavenly?"

Ellen laid her "side" carefully on the tall maple chest by the window. She said in a queerly cold voice, "Yes. It's wonderful."

Eve stared at her. Could it be that she cared for Denny? But that was crazy. As she watched, Ellen suddenly threw herself across the bed sobbing, her hands clutching the counterpane.

"I can't stand it," she panted. "I'll die. My heart's breaking. You and Marylin happy with your men, and I have nothing! Eve, Eve, I want George so I could die! I can't go on living if I don't have him!"

Eve threw her arms around her friend, leaning over her on the bed. She did not know what to do or say to this Ellen, this passionate, agonized girl she had never known.

"Oh, darling, don't cry so!" was all she could say. But Ellen went on sobbing and talking against Eve's shoulder.

"I'd move heaven and earth to marry him. He's the best, decentest, finest man I ever knew. Not that I've known many." She sat up suddenly and dried her eyes, speaking fiercely. "I've taken a job with a little summer stock company at Sharon, near his golf club, to get a chance to be close to him. If I drive over here and stay with you as much as I can, I'll be close to him week-ends too. If a girl loves a man enough—if she tries hard enough—she gets him. I've seen. I'll be the best wife on earth to him. I worship him . . . he must love me . . . he sha'll . . . Oh George, George—"

She began to sob again. Eve held her tight. After a while she quieted. "I didn't mean to break over," she said, "but I had to tell you. Help me, Eve."

Eve held her tight. . . . George! And yet George had said he wanted to get over caring. Men often married on the rebound, she knew. And she would have her two best friends together. She wouldn't lose George this way.

"I'll do everything I can," she said eagerly. "I'm sure it will end right."

"Do you think so?" Ellen said breathlessly. "Oh, my God, I've never had anything I wanted before! I must have this!"

Eve shivered in the face of this naked passion. Shivered again when Ellen, neat, controlled, steady, said her quiet goodbye next day to George among the rest. She knew now what was under the cool control!

Mitzi's House Hunt

Eve and Denny agreed that, all things considered, it wouldn't be fair to Mitzi to let her down about the Southampton real estate hunt.

"I feel so happy now that I'd help the lowest mouse to steal crumbs," Eve said down the telephone that they both used extravagantly now.

"Me too," Denny said fervently. "But the week end after the Southampton business I'll be out. My Lord, woman, it's a wonder we remember what each other looks like. I come out then—and we plan—and we execute!"

"The barbarian lover!"

"All of that," said Denny's voice, passionate even across the wires. "Oh, damn, sweet, wouldn't it be grand if I was hunting for a Southampton summer place for us? Why on earth does Mitzi have to have everything we want?"

"She probably thinks we have everything she wants." Eve's voice was gay and contented. Bright sunshine and Denny's job landed—what more could anybody desire? She went singing away from the telephone.

Denny managed to dash out the Friday morning following, just to have a few hours with her before he drove with Mitzi on her quest for a summer place.

"Let's tell the Featherstones—and Mitzi—and the world!" he said impetuously. "Tell 'em I worship you and I've got a grand job, and I'm coming out next week with a ring in my pocket—"

But Eve remembered that other time. She was superstitious, she said. "Let's tell after it happens. Ellen knows, and George, of course. But they're both oysters."

"All right, sweet. Not even Mitzi. She's a grand person, Mitzi. She was swell over the job being landed by George. Of course, I do think I owe it to her primarily," said Denny thoughtfully. "She told me she'd been wearing herself out selling me to the Clevelands, bless her. She said, 'I feel as if you and I had been awfully close, somehow, in another life, Den, and as if I owed it to you to do things for you.' You know, her eyes were full of tears."

They were kneeling by the strawberry bed hunting for early strawberries. "I'd even hunt strawberries for you, that's how I love you!" Denny said lightly.

Eve sat back on her heels, was about to argue against Mitzi, and then didn't. With everything so perfect nothing was worth arguing over, spring and the strawberries, and the pink apple trees above them, and their love . . .

"Den, you precious, you'll never grow up!"

"Thank heaven!"

While Judge goes to see the doctor, his parents decamp, tomorrow.

PORK SPECIALS

Ample time to enjoy a delicious roast of pork loin remains before steaming summer days bring the urge of cool salads and lighter meals.

To enjoy English-style crackling on roast pork, the roast must be ordered in advance from the butcher. Of course baked apples or applesauce should flank the roast. Remember to give pork ample roasting time.

Pork loin chops may be varied in flavor by covering with seasonings or inserting tiny dabs of onion stuffing. Have the butcher cut the chops extra thick and make the incisions for stuffing if the chops are baked.

Here is a flavorful stuffing for baked pork chops. Cook one chopped onion slowly in butter. To four tablespoons of minced onion add one half cup bread crumbs, one half teaspoon chili powder, one half teaspoon salt and a few drops of milk or cream. Stuff lightly and fasten opening with toothpicks.

Spanish chefs are generous with this spread on the chops before they are placed on the broiler. Work four tablespoons of butter to a cream, add one half clove crushed garlic, one teaspoon each minced parsley and chili powder, two tablespoons of lemon juice and one half teaspoon salt. If these frosted chops are cut thick, start them in a hot oven and finish under the broiler.

Sardine Treats

Sardine treats build up resistance as well as being appetizing. Consider them as health foods rich in vitamin A, as well as savory snacks.

Horseradish is excellent for flavoring sardines. Mash sardines and flake with lemon juice and horseradish. Spread on thin squares of fresh bread. Roll and fasten with toothpicks. Brush with melted butter and toast quickly under the broiler.

Cherry Parfait

Often a "hasty hostess" dessert is in demand. This one has novelty and appetite appeal. Whip one and one half cups heavy cream and fold in one quarter cup of powdered sugar, one half cup roasted and chopped almonds, one teaspoon vanilla (or desired flavoring) and one and one half cup stoned and pitted cherries.

Chill thoroughly in ice box and serve in tall glasses topped with a cherry. Deep red cherries make this a colorful dessert. Perhaps you may want to file it for a July 4th party.

Cheese Dressing

This delicious dressing can be made well in advance of the meal. Chill thoroughly and serve on crisp lettuce hearts or on apple salad.

Two cream cheeses, one tablespoon lemon juice, one tablespoon mayonnaise, one tablespoon chopped green pepper or finely chopped stuffed olives, dash celery salt, one fourth teaspoon salt and one teaspoon to one tablespoon finely chopped onion, depending on taste for onion. Beat thoroughly.

Oatmeal Cup Cakes

Stir one cup of cooked oatmeal into one half cup milk. Add one half teaspoon salt, one beaten egg, three tablespoons melted butter, one cup of flour, sifted with four teaspoons baking powder and three tablespoons of sugar.

Mix thoroughly, spoon into greased muffin pans and bake one half hour in a moderate oven. Excellent for the youngster's lunch box.

CLUB AT CLARIDON TO SPONSOR SUPPER

Claridon's Community club will sponsor a penny supper Thursday from 6 to 8 p. m. at the school house, John Ruth, president, announced today. The public is invited. The dinner will be in charge of Mrs. Charm Kline, chairman of arrangements.

Following the dinner adults of the community will present a play, "The Old Hickory School" under the direction of Miss Lois Roberts, first grade teacher. The Children's Noisy band will provide music.

Efficient lubricating of an automobile requires delivery of from 100 to 250 gallons of oil an hour to each bearing and working part by the repeated use of the six to eight quarts contained in a crankcase.

Maybe this isn't important. Still judicial reorganization is the first new deal proposal which has been given the benefit of ... thorough discussion. For four years things have been done in haste.

Emergency made haste imperative or so it seemed at the time. The emergency also caused waste. If the country had talked it the NRA before blundering into it the good parts of the idea might have been picked out and applied successfully. The supreme court wouldn't have been put into a hole by laws like the recovery act which forced it to remind congress in an unanimous decision there still was a Constitution and that senators and representatives had sworn to uphold it and preserve it—not to uphold and preserve the chief executive at the Constitution's expense.

It is said that free government is likely to talk itself to death in an emergency. A companion saying might be that it is likely to talk itself back to life after the emergency. If Mr. Roosevelt were less insistent about his proposal one might almost believe he offered it to remind the democracy he is trying to save that talking it over is a thousand times better than putting it over—that the deliberate judgment of the many, though slower in form, is always more dependable in the long run than the quick judgment of the few.

Shades Of Arthur Brisbane

It would be fun to read the late Arthur Brisbane's comment on Europe's newest wrinkle in aerial defense—wire fences suspended from balloons.

The enemy not knowing the location of these hazards would be forced to conduct bombing raids from an altitude higher than the balloons could be expected to go, thus he would be at a disadvantage. The chief value of the contraptions it is admitted would be their psychological effect on pilots who never would know when they might fly into a fringe of writhing wires.

Mr. Brisbane had complete confidence in airplanes as the controlling factor of martial destruction in future wars. He probably would agitate immediately for cutters on airplanes like those which theoretically enable submarines to knife through nets spread to catch them. Still he might have to admit that human ingenuity didn't stop with invention of airplanes or their submission to the uses of destruction.

Mr. Hughes pointed out that regulation of women's labor was a consideration for the State itself to prevent as a matter of public interest and as a matter of protection to the ... He made this significant comment:

The community is not bound to provide what is in effect a subsidy for unconscionable employers.

There is nothing in the majority opinion which would foreclose the possibility on the same line of reasoning of passage by states of valid laws governing minimum wages for men. The way has been opened to minimum wage legislation by states and without a constitutional amendment, something which this correspondent contended a year ago.

View Of Senator Borah

Senator Borah it will be recalled was one of those who insisted that minimum wage legislation could be written that would conform to the constitutional requirements. The clarifying opinion by the majority of the supreme court now makes it evident that minimum wage laws have been and still are within the domain of state power. The various state laws that have been on the statute books and have gone unrepealed can be enforced hereafter without fear of restraint by the federal courts.

Other decisions of the supreme court handed down this week are of paramount importance. Thus the mortgage moratorium law known as the new Frazier-Lemke act shows that when congress puts its mind to studying previous decisions of the supreme court constitutional legislation can be written. Likewise the unanimous opinion of the supreme court in the railroad case will be studied with much interest in framing future laws relating to labor disputes. Though the latest decision is necessarily confined to instrumentalities of interstate commerce—the railroads—as distinguished from businesses engaged in interstate commerce the ruling indicates the attitude of the court on the all important point of a virtually compulsory process of mediation and negotiation. This does not mean compulsory arbitration or enforced settlement. Incidentally the supreme court was helpful in showing that the majority rule in collective bargaining does not preclude those in the minority from entering into individual contracts for employment even though the minority cannot represent any persons besides themselves in collective bargaining. On the whole the court's decisions are timely and constructively advisory and they reveal the mental vigor of the justices every one of whom wrote opinions for delivery this week.

Through all the summer lightning of argument the traditional equanimity of Ashurst flashes like a rainbow. He met one violent critic on the senate floor recently by taking the words from his mouth.

Strikes No Worry To Roosevelt

BY PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, March 30—It is only a fair guess now that President Roosevelt is less alarmed about the sit-down strike craze than most of his associates.

Apparently he looks at it like the budget. He would like to hold it within limits but thinks it can be done without any drastic action. He sees the danger that others are expressing but minimizes them more than he or any of his new ordinances have dared to say publicly except possibly Miss Perkins. Her expressions seem to come lower to his personal view than statements by all the other new ... dealers.

The answer to this is of course almost obvious. Strikes are fuel on his court fire. They emphasize and dramatize his contention that the government needs power by court packing or otherwise to control the ... will of labor and capital.

State Tariffs

Many things which could not happen here are now happening every day. Not the least of these is the spreading movement to ... tariff barriers between the states. If there was one fundamental question upon which all framers of the Constitution were agreed it was that the Union could not exist with one state taxing discriminately the products of another. Yet unnoted and almost unobserved that idea is now developing on a wide scale.

Southern congressmen are worried about the campaigns in many western states to put a tax on southern products. They have noted the Illinois proposals for a natural gas tax and the Iowa movement to tax southern shortening made from vegetable oils.

Ohio's retaliatory tax on Michigan beer has been upheld in the Ohio supreme court. (Prohibition repeal gave the states the right to levy tariffs on liquor despite the fundamental constitutional rule against this principle.)

Some southern governors are said to be considering the idea of calling a general governors' conference on state tariffs—a matter which all states thought to be settled forever when the Constitution was adopted.

Over Estimating

About three volunteers ... of Mister Mussolini in Spain.

Military and diplomatic ... here have information indicating these volunteers are mostly black shirt militia. They are not experienced troops but ... which had been working on roads, sanitation works etc. in Ethiopia.

Hitler sent in better ... than Mussolini although he had to choose them from ... Reichswehr has been ... men recently and his is ... efficiency. His volunteers were really rather raw recruits but they at least knew some discipline and how to shoot.

The German troops clearly fell down from what was expected of them by the German general staff. The Italians just followed the old rule that he who fights and runs away may live but not necessarily to fight again.

What makes the ... experts laugh is that both Mussolini and Hitler underestimated the ability of the loyalists. These defenders were little more than an unorganized mob at the start but in six months they have learned a lot about warfare.

The next time Mussolini roars about his eight million Fascist rifles, just remember he is counting a lot which look good on parade but not so good in a fight.

The result of this situation is that Germany seems to be shining up more to John Bull and less toward Mussolini, leaving Mussolini to bellow alone.

It must be quite as apparent to the German general staff as to everyone else after the Spanish experience that Germany is not anywhere near ready to fight anyone, least of all France, Soviet Russia and possibly Great Britain too.

Thus British diplomacy has muddled through again. Anthony (the gardener of) Eden has succeeded by doing nothing except playing the two inseparable Germany and Italy against each other.

Peace prospects are on the upsurge again in Europe only because the gods of war are not yet ready.

Futility

The rosy hue of Senator Nye's ear indicates he must have heard what state departmentalists are calling him for proposing that resolution asking them whether present conditions in Spain justify an embargo. The mildest thing they call the idea ... an attempt to rock the boat" and their friendliest personal thought of Mr. Nye is as a publicity hound.

The fact is Nye is raising the question they have been trying hardest to avoid for six months. There is doubtless plenty of authority in the present neutrality law to justify an arms embargo against Italy for her activities in Spain. The question is what good it would do.

One very bad thing it would certainly do is throw the United States into the middle of the present Anglo-Italian German Russian French muddle.

Daily Pattern for Home Use

BY ANNE ADAMS

MAKE MATRON'S SLENDERLINE FROCK WITH OR WITHOUT SAUCY COLLAR

It's mother's turn for a cheery bit of flattery, so Anne Adams has designed this slim o' line wash frock for the "head of the house!" Every matron will be charmed with the slenderizing surplice lines of Pattern 4286, for they're fashion-magic in concealing surplus pounds. What could be brighter than the lovely buttons that accent the handy pockets, button-front closing, and trim bands of the puffed sleeves? Action-room has not been forgotten, either, for there's a generous pleat in center front of the dainty skirt! Even though you're not an "old hand" at making your own clothes, you'll find this frock of washable cotton easy, so easy in fact that you'll probably make several versions.

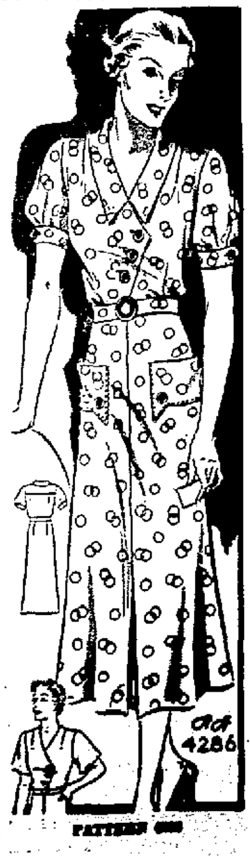
Pattern 4286 is available in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36 takes 4¾ yards 36 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS and STYLE NUMBER.

A smart wardrobe—YOURS! Order our Spring ANNE ADAMS PATTERN BOOK and see how easy it is to make becoming, up-to-minute outfits quickly and inexpensively at home! Revel in a wide choice of sparkling all-occasion frocks, suits, blouses—with special, slimming styles for the stouter woman. Practical, fashion-right models for kiddies and "debs", too! Fabric tips. BOOK FIFTEEN CENTS. PATTERN FIFTEEN CENTS. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS FOR BOTH WHEN ORDERED TOGETHER.

Send your order to The Marion Star, Pattern Department, 243 West 17th street, New York, N. Y.



PATTERN [illegible]

The Stars Say—

For Wednesday, March 31.

A DAY of much enterprise and constructive work is forecast from the predominant lunar and mutual aspects. Attendant upon a stroke of bold initiative, there is likely to be a welcome and effective breaking-up of long stagnant conditions to make way for the practical application of pent-up energies and finely-[illegible]ulated faculties.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a splendid year in which to launch important enterprises and give stability to the fortunes. These may be accomplished with the assistance of elders or those in important posts who will be disposed to [illegible] splendid initiative and a shrewd and subtle mental equipment.

A child born on this day may have excellent energies and initiative, with much constructive ability. It may have splendid equipment of a shrewd and subtle mentality, probably of an intuitive order.

MARION COUPLE IN UNION CO. ACCIDENT

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Roebuck Injured At Car Overturns.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Roebuck of 224 [illegible] street are recovering at home from cuts and bruises suffered when their automobile overturned in a ditch three miles east of Marysville on the Marysville-Watkins road about [illegible] a. m. Sunday.

Dr. L. L. Roebuck of South Vine street, notified of the accident by Sheriff Homer S. Roose, returned the couple to Marion from the office of a Marysville physician where they were given first aid treatment.

The car, driven by Mrs. Roebuck, was badly damaged and was towed to a Marysville garage. The car skidded in loose gravel as Mrs. Roebuck made a sharp turn in the road, Dr. Roebuck said.
